13:30 – 15:00	Session 6: Quality funding &amp; equitable partnerships (180 mins) Objective: In order to improve outcomes for climate-affected children and beyond, quality funding and equitable partnership are essential. They also serve effective localisation and accountability to affected people. A scoping study carried by ICVA received over 700 responses from UNICEF partners and showed that NGO partners are enthusiastic to collaborate with UNICEF on topics such as bridging the funding gap, advocating to donors for more quality funding, and aligning funding across the nexus. The study also showed that areas to strengthen in partnerships between NGOs and UNICEF include overheads, multi-year flexible funding, communication and transparency, and consistency in implementation of guidelines. The participants will jointly highlight good practices, identify barriers and challenges and ways how to address these and formulate recommendations on how quality funding and equitable partnerships can be taken forward and jointly strengthened. Format: Moderated panel discussion, followed by Q&amp;A, followed by thematic breakout group discussions, followed by reporting back in plenary. This session will open with short presentations by UNICEF and NGO speakers on their subject of focus, before opening the floor to questions and comments and breaking out
